Sean James: Fern Ridge Gardens—Garden Trends for 2017

Sean James has been gardening professionally since age sixteen. He is a graduate of the prestigious Niagara Parks School of Horticulture, a Master Gardener and the two-time past-President of the Milton & District Horticultural Society. He is the founder of Fern Ridge Landscaping and Eco-Consulting and is building an international reputation for sustainable landscaping.

Founded in 1996, the company specializes in quality design and construction; combining unmatched horticultural knowledge with an eye for rainwater handling, habitat creation and biodiversity. Fern Ridge is firmly committed to putting its expertise to use in the community by educating on the use of native species and demonstrating the beauty of sustainable gardens. It was this dedication that brought the Make-A-Wish Foundation and HGTV's Carson Arthur to ask Fern Ridge to build a special garden for a young boy named Edward to allow him wheelchair access to his garden. Sean will be enlightening us on upcoming garden trends for 2017.

President's Message

My heartfelt congratulations goes out to the Plant Sale Team. It was well-organized and people donated some amazing plants. Thank you so much. I'm pretty proud of what our Society can accomplish when we work together.

I'm hoping that this week we'll have warmer weather and I'll be able to spend some time working in my own garden instead of making holes where plants used to be. I'm eagerly anticipating appearance of some of last year's plant sale treasures, and I continually marvel at the fact that these plants all remember what they are supposed to look like after such a long & cold dormancy. My Canada150 tulips are hiding in their leaves due to the cold, but will pop soon, I hope, and should be red/white and not ORANGE as the white leaf lines are present. Spring is such a magical time. Make it a good day/week/month, and I hope to see you at the next meeting on May 24.

PHS Plant Sale Results!

Our Plant Sale this spring might go down in history as the fastest sell out. It only took 15 minutes for the tables to be emptied. The weather did not co-operate with us this spring; too much rain and cooler days did not bode well for the amount of donations this year. Despite that, 558 plants were donated and our sales profit this year was $1571.

None of this would be possible without the dedicated members who donate their plants, their knowledge and time every year for this sale. It is always so much fun and continues to run smoothly. Even when a car arrived at the end of the sale to donate many, many potted cedars, did

Barnyard Gold

Barnyard Gold will be available in bags, for pickup at Kawartha Capital on Ashburnham Drive perhaps by the end of this week or next. Please call first as the wet weather may delay the bagging at source. (Craig at (705) 750-0440). For info on Barnyard Gold (formerly called Nincompoop) see www.dirtcheap.ca

The PHS has worked hard to form a win-win partnership with Kawartha Capital and in return, we receive a discount. The retail price is 9.99 (10.49 at Home Hardware) and our price is $7.50 - for PHS - paid-up members only. We have worked to help other Hort. societies have a discount and their cost is $8.50. To make best use of this partnership you must be a paid-up member the Peterborough Hort. - and show your card (no card, no discount; no exceptions).

If you wish to purchase more than 15 bags at a time, please call ahead to make sure there is enough. This is a new venture for both of us and we want to be respectful of their business as well as our own needs.

Did You Know?

1. That the ginkgo tree (Ginkgo biloba) is among the most ancient of plants still in existence? Considered a living fossil, it's said to have survived, unchanged, for more than 200 million years. It's also a lonely specimen, being the only one of its species, with no known living relatives. With its roots in China, the ginkgo (or maidenhair tree) has made its way around the world to become a popular landscape tree, despite the fact that the female produces foul-smelling fruit (best to spec a male, if you want to maintain good neighbour relations).
2. Butterflies might be more attracted to your weeds than your flowers. Colorful blooms aren't the chief reason these insects love your garden – it's more about the fragrance and nectar. According to the Smithsonian Institute, new cultivars of popular flowers have been bred for enhanced color and size, but have often lost their fragrance in the process. So everyday weeds, like dandelions and clovers, might actually be the most appealing things in your yard to butterflies (they hate pesticides, too).
3. That gardening is good for your mental health? The hobby can do wonders for our emotional wellbeing as well. Here's how:
 - Watching something you planted come to life and bloom can create a wonderful sense of accomplishment and help boost your self-esteem. (even if your first carrot costs you $25! mjp)
 - Gardening is a good way to interact with others socially as you can network with other gardeners, sharing your successes and tips or even maintain a plot at a community garden. (and hort society events... mjp)
 - Gardening is also a great way to be more conscientious of what you're eating. When you garden, you're responsible for taking care of living things and watching them grow. You have to pay attention to the weather and be sure to properly nourish your garden. In a way, being acutely aware of these natural truths can help us be aware of how we feed and take care of ourselves (and others!).
